SUBJECT: PROPOSED LEGISLATION - Youth Development Centers

When we return to Session in January, I plan to reintroduce from last session H.B. 2459 which would make the Commonwealth responsible for any costs incurred for property damage or loss caused by a child who escapes while under court-ordered commitment to an open or secure youth development center operated by the Department of Public Welfare or under contract with the Commonwealth.

Chairman, House Judiciary Committee

Dear Tom:

This is a follow-up to our conversation on Monday, March 21, about House Bill 2459, which was referred to Judiciary on January 25, 1994.

I certainly appreciate your offer to hold hearings on the bill, either in my district or here in Harrisburg. Since my district is so close to Harrisburg, and all necessary facilities are readily available here, I do request that your committee hold hearings and that they be held at the Capitol.

Several of my constituents have expressed an interest in testifying, so please let me know as soon as you have scheduled the hearings.

Thank you again for your support.

Sincerely,
