Eric Marshall says he's a moral man. But why would a moral man endanger our senior citizens? Marshall doesn't understand that the lottery funds senior citizen programs and needs. That means nursing care, hot meals and prescription drugs. If Marshall has his way there'd be no lottery. You heard right, he's willing to gamble with the lives of our seniors. Seniors would lose hot lunches, prescription drug programs, even nursing care. Tom Scrimenti supports senior citizens. Scrimenti refused the pay raise and gave $30,000 of his salary to senior centers, volunteer fire departments, food pantries, and more. Scrimenti cut legislative spending. Scrimenti brought home record amounts of state money. Tom Scrimenti has given more, and wants to give even more. What kind of a moral man is Eric Marshall? Not a very good one. Hurting people who can't take any more pain isn't moral at all. We need Tom Scrimenti because good leadership counts now more than ever.
